ALBINO RINGNECK?: Two Berrien hunters, one bringing his son, bagged this young white cock pheasant Thursday afternoon in a cornfield on the Dan Stolfo farm on Watson road near Sodus-Pipestone township line. Both men shot at it but Robert Tillman (right), 37, of Route 1, Benton Harbor, claimed it since he found it. His partner is Charles Baugher, 36, of route 2, Coloma. Both are pressmen at A&R Rowe printers, St. Joseph. Tillman's son, Dennis, accompanied them on the hunt. Bird has 14½-inch tail feathers, weighs 1½-2 pounds has red eye patches and dark blemishes, and is solid white but for slight brown tipping of neck, breast and back feathers. Tillman is having it mounted. The bird was bagged in the same general area where there have been confirmed reports over the past decade of other hunters downing birds that apparently are a crossbred strain between pheasant and chicken. MANNED SOVIET CRAFT IN SPACE

Rookie Cosmonaut At Helm

Purpose Of Flight Is Not Disclosed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a rookie cosmonaut into space, its first manned shot in more than a year, the news agency Tass reported.

The ship, Soyuz 3, carried Col. Georgy Beregovoi on his first trip into orbit, Tass said. It identified him as a "Soviet pilot-cosmonaut, hero of the Soviet Union and a merited test pilot."

Tass said Beregovoi has "started fulfilling the program of the flight" but issued no details of what maneuvers might be performed. It said Beregovoi "feels well" and all systems aboard the craft were functioning normally.

ENDS IN TRAGEDY

The last Soviet manned space flight was Soyuz 1, launched in April 1967. It crashed to earth, killing Cosmonaut Vladimir Kommarov.

Beregovoi is the 12th Soviet cosmonaut to be put into orbit. Those before him have achieved an impressive list of "firsts," including the first manned launching and Alexei Leonov's first space walk in March 1965.

Soviet space plans are not announced in advance, so that failures are not publicized unless the circumstances are extraordinary, such as the death of Kommarov.

Although the Soviet space program is veiled in secrecy, there had been indications that the Russians would concentrate on unmanned experiments. Cosmonauts traveling aboard made no mention of plans to send a man into orbit.

Tass said the ship was launched at 11:34 a.m., Moscow time by "a powerful rocket booster."

The ship may have been launched to coincide with the Oct. 28 anniversary of the Communist youth organization Kom-somol and the 51st birthday of the Soviet state Nov. 7.

SPACE PLATFORM

A few cautious public pronouncements in the past have indicated that the Soviets eventually plan to construct a launching platform in space from which cosmonauts will be fired to the moon and other planets. This would avoid the need for booster rockets needed to power spacecraft beyond earth's gravity.

Tass' initial announcements did not indicate whether Beregovoi's mission would involve experiments connected with the platform.

Air Crash In Fog Kills 32

Ten Survive As Plane Hits Mountain

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — A Northeast Airlines plane carrying 39 passengers and a crew of three crashed in a fog and burned 60 feet from the top of 2,700-foot Moose Mountain near Hanover Friday night. Thirty-two died. Helicopters took the 10 survivors off the mountain.

Northeast said the pilot, Capt. John A. Rapsis, 52, of Nashua, N.H., with the airline 14 years, had made the trip "hundreds of times." He was not among the survivors.

Among the injured were the stewardess, Miss Betty J. Frail, 21, of Berkeley Heights, N.J., and Winthrop, Mass.; Robert Kimball, 45, assistant dean of Tuck Business School, Dartmouth College, and Dr. Richard L. Veech of Oxford, England.

All three were reported in satisfactory condition at Mary Hitchcock Hospital, Hanover.

The hospital said one of the injured, Bernard Desmond Jr. of Springfield, Vt., was in critical condition. He suffered head injuries. The rescue helicopters landed in the glare of auto headlights on the campus green at Dartmouth College. Ambulances whisked the injured three blocks to the hospital.

Hanover Police Chief Dennis J. Cooney told newsmen at the hospital that 10 survivors had been brought in "and that's it."

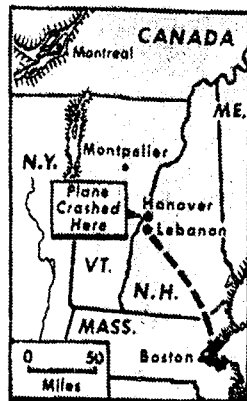

RESCUE EFFORT

Rescuers who had labored for hours in the rough, rocky terrain, guided at times only by flashlights, suspended work until daybreak.

"There was a terrible crash and the plane burst into flames," said a witness, Parrrly R. Willis, 39, of Lebanon.

Willis said he was returning to his car after hunting deer with bow and arrow when he heard the plane overhead.

"I couldn't see it because of the fog above me," he said, "but all at once these bright landing lights started to shine in the fog. They were so close to the mountain then that I knew they were going to hit it . . . I never expected there would be any survivors."

CONTINUES PEACE EFFORT

LBJ Won't Accept 'No'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite an angry denial from Hanoi of any bombing-halt deal, President Johnson was reported today to be pressing ahead with secret negotiations for an agreement with North Vietnam to de-escalate the war.

While the Hanoi blast could be read as a rejection of Johnson's still secret proposals, authorities chose to interpret it as a propaganda attack which did not necessarily reflect the final decision of North Vietnamese leaders.

The broadcast by Hanoi radio Friday, however, was receiving careful study.

HANOI BLAST

As reported in press dispatches from Hong Kong, it said: "Statements by U.S. propagandists that Hanoi has accepted U.S. conditions in return for a bombing halt are nothing but deliberate lies."

"These deliberate falsehoods, which have no foundation whatsoever in truth, are nothing but an attempt at psychological warfare aimed at spreading confusion and misleading public opinion."

Washington authorities took the position that there was still at least an even chance, probably better, for reaching some understanding on scaling down the war and advancing the Paris peace talks which would enable Johnson to end the bombing in the near future.

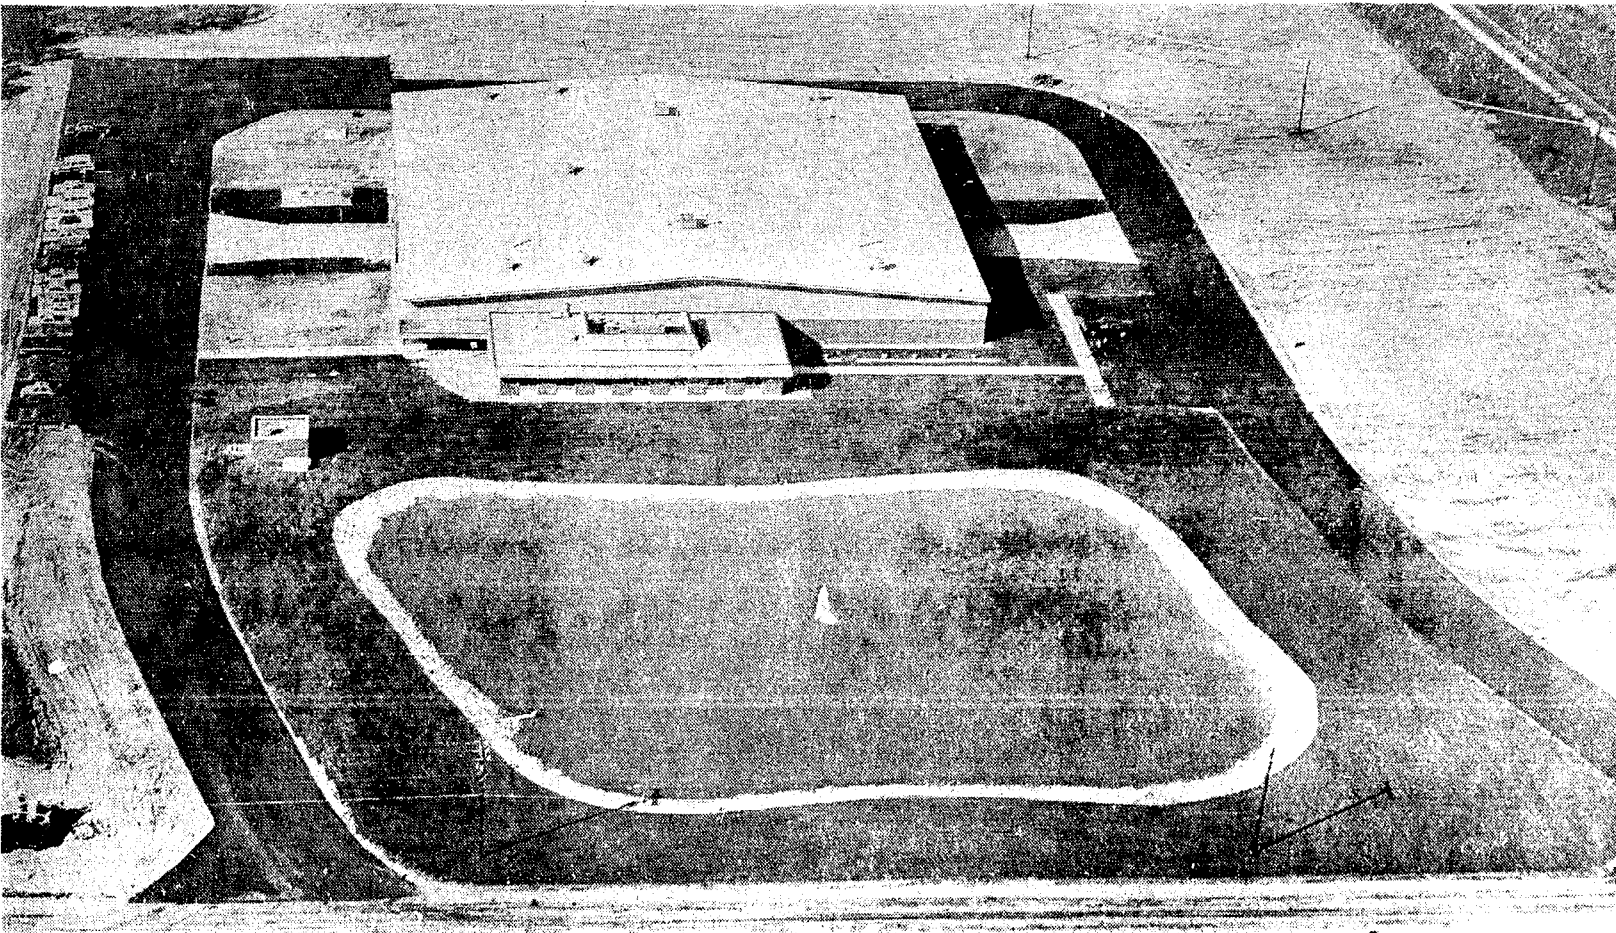

Another Hanoi broadcast recorded by U.S. radio monitors and made available in Washington, spotlighted in North Vietnamese terms the two issues widely reported as being at the heart of the negotiations for the past several weeks.

"Johnson is still unwilling to unconditionally end the bombing . . ." this broadcast said. "At the same time he still refuses to recognize the National Front for the Liberation of South Viet-

Cheery Outlook For GOP At The Statehouse Level

The British used to say that their wars were won on the playing fields of Eton. Many a savvy politician figures national political victories in this country aren't won on network TV screens, but rather back home at the grass roots of local party organizations.

If the latter is indeed the case, and certainly it's at least one of the major factors in political gamesmanship, then the Republicans appear to have a lot going for them this year and may look even better after the November elections.

The GOP, already in control of 26 of the nation's 50 state governorships, seems on the brink of a spectacular advance—

Setback For Marxism

No comments concerning the Soviet rape of Czechoslovakia have been more pungent than those coming from within the leftist camp. The following reaction in the British weekly, The Statesman, needs no further discussion, other than to point out that publication has been the leading socialist, pro-Soviet publication in Britain and Western Europe for 50 years.

"In order that some 14 million people in Czechoslovakia should remain voiceless subjects rather than critical friends, the Russians have abandoned all semblance of representing anything more than the selfish hysteria of a vast backward state.

"Socialists in the West — and the more intelligent Western Marxists — have argued for 12 years that Eastern Europe could undergo peaceful change. It is now apparent that they were wrong.

"We are back to Square One: Not only to 1956, but to 1948, to the original ice age of the cold war. Russian policy in Eastern Europe is now evidently based on monolithic resistance to change. The social, strategic and human map must reflect the results of the second World War and nothing else.

"It is no longer worth making excuses for Soviet communism or for parties that acknowledge the Soviet Union as an authority, a leader or a goal. Worse, it is no longer worth hoping that any humanized marxism can come out of Eastern Europe. The doctrine may permit it, but the circumstances do not.

"Earlier this year, it seemed briefly as if, somewhere between Paris and Prague, some relief might be found for the European Left's emotional aridity and intellectual impasse. Both columns of that arch have now fallen. It will take a long time to rebuild."

At The Bank

More and more the power of individual decision is being taken away. Now a bank in California will not even let the patron decide which line to get into for window service.

Instead, it has instituted a one-line system by which customers are served in the order they arrive at the bank.

This will never work. With no choice of lines, how is the customer to avoid the one with the shopkeeper and his brown money bags?

Astute linemanship is part of the fun of going to a bank, and it doesn't seem sporting to take it away.

BORN TODAY

Boxing fans and sportswriters called him the "Gentle Giant." "The Ambling Alp" and "Da Preem." He reached the peak of the fight game when he became heavyweight champion of the world, and yet his story is not among the bright chapters in boxing.

Primo Carnera was born in Sequals, Undine, Italy, in 1906 and died there on June 29, 1967.

A genial, lumbering mountain, he was mismanaged as a fighter and taken advantage of by hangers-on in his entourage. His career in U.S. professional boxing was dramatized in the hard-hitting film, "The Harder They Fall."

Carnera's name first appears in the boxing record books with a knockout victory over one Leon Seibilo in Paris on Sept. 12, 1928. He didn't make it to the United States until 1930. He started off with a one-round knockout of Big Boy Peterson in New York. That year was one filled with a string of knockouts and only one loss.

His big night took place in New York City on June 29, 1933, when he flattened Jack Sharkey in six rounds for the world's heavyweight crown. Sharkey, himself, had taken the title from Max Schmeling in 1932.

Max Bear, the "clown prince" of boxing, ended Carnera's reign as champion on June 14, 1934, by finishing him off in the 11th round of their title bout.

Carnera, at 267 pounds, was the heaviest boxer ever to win the world championship.

After World War II, he settled in the United States and became a wrestler, acquiring U.S. citizenship in 1953.

Others born today include Mahalia Jackson, Jackie Coogan and publisher John S. Knight.

Born on Oct. 27 were Theodore Roosevelt, Nanette Fabray.

DR. COLEMAN

.. And Speaking Of Your Health

There are a few scientific ideas that stagger the imagination. One is that almost any scientific wonder that man can think of, he can almost always create.

Another, an accepted fact in medicine and science, is that if the cause of a disease or disorder is found, a cure will soon follow. A number of diseases are now readily recognized, treated Dr. Coleman and controlled without a definite cure. One such, myasthenia gravis, is associated with muscular weakness and occurs mostly in women in early adult life. Dr. Kermit Osserman of the Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City is one of the pioneers in the recognition and control of this severe disorder. A number of new drugs, especially neostigmine, have brought marked relief from the weakness of this disease.

Now Dr. Gideon Goldstein of the National Institute of Allergy is using a drug he calls thymine, created from the thymus gland of a calf. Dr. Goldstein has found that experimental animals can be made to develop symptoms almost identical with those of myasthenia gravis.

Thymine is probably a hormone and may, if overproduced in the human, be one of the factors responsible for this disease.

If all of this is true and finally substantiated, then it is almost inevitable that a substance will soon be created to fight the effects of the thymine and bring fulfillment to the dream that thousands of Americans will be spared the incapacitation of this progressive muscular disability.

In the elderly and in some special diseases the bones of the body lose their calcium, become brittle and often break even without injury. This is known as osteoporosis and, when unchecked, it results in severe incapacitation.

Many patients develop spontaneous fractures caused almost by the weight of the body rather than by injury caused by lack of calcium in the bone. In some cases the exact cause can be found and eliminated with the use of sodium phosphate, sodium fluoride, high concentrations of vitamin D and special hormones. Because many cases fail to respond to this form of treatment, new methods have had to be sought. Dr. Charles Y. C. Pak of the National Heart Institute in Maryland undertook to treat some of his patients in a courageous manner by injecting large doses of calcium directly into the bloodstream. Patients who had failed to respond to any of the previously known methods of treatment soon began to show evidence of increased bone deposits and before long were able once again to maneuver outside of their beds and undertake daily activity.

The balance of chemicals like calcium and their relationship to almost every mechanism of the body is truly remarkable. Calcium deficiencies are intimately related to faulty absorption in the intestinal tract, defects in the parathyroid glands in the neck and interference with normal kidney function. The work of Dr. Pak will add greatly to the stockpile of information that is now available to help redeposit calcium in the weakened bones of the body.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—Everyone, from pre-adolescent to adult, should know the technique of artificial resuscitation.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Opening lead—jack of hearts.

This hand occurred in a pair tournament. Six clubs would have been a more normal contract, but South was shooting for a top score by playing the hand in notrump.

The contract was sound enough; in fact, seven clubs would also have been quite reasonable, though it would have gone down in this case, because of the 4-1 trump division.

West led a heart against six notrump and South decided to take every possible precaution to make the hand. Accordingly, he won with the ace, cashed the ace of diamonds, and led a low club towards dummy.

When West followed with the nine, declarer permitted it to win the trick. This proved to be a very wise move, as later events proved. West returned a heart and South easily took the rest of the trick. He won the heart, led a club to the queen, discarded a spade on the king of diamonds, and thus made the slam.

But suppose South had played the hand without making due allowance for a 4-1 club break. Let's say he won the heart lead, cashed the ace of diamonds, and then led a club to the queen, as many players probably would.

He would then have gone down after cashing the king of diamonds and discarding a spade on it. He would be unable to run the clubs without first conceding a trick in that suit, and as soon as he did this, East would cash his queen of diamonds for the setting trick.

The safety play of conceding a club trick before cashing the king of diamonds has much to recommend it. The danger of a 4-1 club break is more than imaginary—it occurs in 28 deals out of 100—and declarer should protect against the possibility whenever the circumstances demand it.

Two salesmen struck up an acquaintance at a roadside bar and grill. "I've got six sons," boasted the first. "Golly," replied the other, "I wish I had six children!" "Haven't you any?" sympathized the first. "Oh, yes," sighed the other. "I have twelve!"

The late Henry Luce, creator of one of the most powerful magazine empires in history, had his fair share of faults, but dodging issues definitely was not one of them. If you are fed up with weaseling editors and commentators who are continually apologizing for what's wrong with America, and ignoring all the things that make our country great, you will appreciate Luce's answer to a critic who damned him for his prejudices: "I am a Protestant, a Republican, and a free enterpriser, which means I am biased in favor of God, Eisenhower, and the stockholders of Time, Incorporated — and if anyone who objects doesn't know this by now, why the hell are they still buying the magazine?"

One of the orneriest of critics and journalists of our era was the overblown Alexander Woollcott. Because he was a celebrity, hotel managers invariably sent a complimentary bowl of fruit to his room when he arrived on a lecture tour. Because he usually was dieting, Woollcott couldn't eat the fruit, but out of sheer malice made a practice of taking one bit out of each piece of fruit before he checked out.

Hunt For Woman's Kidnapers

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cook County sheriff's office investigated new leads Friday in the apparent abduction of a Michigan woman who was found shot and wounded in a field northwest of Chicago.

Mrs. Sally Heaton, 31, of Mattawan, Mich., remained in critical condition at a hospital. She was shot twice in the head and once in the arm.

Mrs. Heaton was thrown from her auto by two men she said she met in a tavern in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Sheriff's police said Friday a search of Mrs. Heaton's automobile, which was recovered Thursday in Berwyn, a western suburb of Chicago, revealed "sketchy fingerprints."

Police said a second lead developed when a car was reported stolen a few blocks from where Mrs. Heaton's auto was abandoned. Police said they have been unable to determine the identity of the men who Mrs. Heaton said robbed and assaulted her.

Police said that photographs of two recent escapees from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, were shown to friends and relatives of Mrs. Heaton. They indicated that the two men being sought were older than the two escapees.

BH College Night Set Tuesday

BHHS, St. John's Students Invited

Representatives of 31 colleges and schools of nursing will be at Benton Harbor high school Tuesday for conferences with students and parents at the annual College Night.

Parents and juniors and seniors from Benton Harbor high and St. John's are invited to attend. The conference starts at 7:30 p.m. with orientation. Each parent and student can then visit three college representatives of their choice for information on admissions, finances and curriculum.

College representatives expected to attend are from Adrian, Albion, Alma, Andrews, Central Michigan, Davenport, Eastern Michigan, Ferris State, Grand Valley, Hillsdale, Greer Technical Institute, Muskegon Hackley hospital, Hope, Kalamazoo, Lake Michigan, Lake Superior State, Mackinac, Michigan State, Michigan Tech, South Bend Memorial hospital, Northern Michigan, Northwood, Oakland, Olivet, Southwestern Michigan, South Bend College of Commerce, Saginaw Valley, Wayne State, Western Michigan, University of Detroit and University of Michigan.

The court battle began Feb. 7, 1967 at which time Judge Byrns denied a motion by several school districts and individuals for an injunction to block a Feb. 14, 1967 school reorganization election which resulted in the merging of all Cass county primary districts with high school districts.

The reorganization plan was approved by voters in a 2,359 to 1,543 decision.

It said the purpose of the law "is to help children get to public and nonpublic schools in safety and good health in order to receive an education and to become mature and intelligent citizens."

"The purpose of the statute being clearly secular, its primary effect cannot be said to either advance or inhibit religion," the court added.

The 1963 law requires school districts which provide bus transportation to public school children to make it available also to children attending private schools.

Three Cass Challengers Lose Fight

Appeals Court Backs School Consolidation

The Michigan court of appeals Friday upheld the state school district reorganization act of 1964 in a suit involving three Cass county residents who had objected to the merger of their country school districts with the Dowagiac and Cassopolis high school districts.

The reorganization act provides for consolidation of small districts into larger kindergartens through 12th grade units.

In their suit, the Cass county residents challenged the law as an unconstitutional delegation of legislative powers.

The court, however, said the act "merely grants to the state committee on school reorganization authority to implement specific goals promulgated by the Legislature and as such does not constitute an abdication of the legislative function."

JUDGE BYRNS UPHELD
The appeals court ruling further upholds the decision rendered in the case by Berrien Circuit Judge Chester Byrns on May 10, 1967.

In dismissing the suit last year, Byrns had ruled the plaintiffs were not proper parties to initiate the action. His ruling at that time set guidelines on other legal battles over school reorganization throughout the state.

Those filing the original suit in Cass county against the reorganization plan included the Penn school district; Geneva district, Indian Lake district, Fractional district, and Hinchman district plus Floyd Jordon, Jr., Carlton Hewitt, James F. Wolf, Glen Busick, Arthur Ut-rup, Harold Shaw, Fred Molter, Mrs. Helen Prillwitz, Thomas Brosnan, Victor Wyant, William Sink and Charles Sprague.

Judge Byrns had ruled school districts have no right to act as plaintiffs in a suit contesting the school reorganization plan. The suit was then continued on into the appeals court by Hewitt, Hinchman school district trustee; Wyant, Champlain school trustee, and Helen Prillwitz, Cullinane school district treasurer.

The court battle began Feb. 7, 1967 at which time Judge Byrns denied a motion by several school districts and individuals for an injunction to block a Feb. 14, 1967 school reorganization election which resulted in the merging of all Cass county primary districts with high school districts.

The reorganization plan was approved by voters in a 2,359 to 1,543 decision.

Parochial School Aid Is Upheld

LANSING (AP) — The State Court of Appeals Friday said it is constitutional for the state to provide transportation for parochial school pupils.

In an Ingham County case, a three-judge appeals panel held that a 1963 school bus law does not violate a constitutional provision against state support to religious groups.

It said the purpose of the law "is to help children get to public and nonpublic schools in safety and good health in order to receive an education and to become mature and intelligent citizens."

"The purpose of the statute being clearly secular, its primary effect cannot be said to either advance or inhibit religion," the court added.

The 1963 law requires school districts which provide bus transportation to public school children to make it available also to children attending private schools.

ST. JOSEPH AHEAD: State Highway department has revised signs leading to St. Joseph. This marker on US-33 North at M-139 used to say that US-33 was closed six miles ahead. Protests by businessmen which felt highway department had detoured city off map brought changes. Sign at Scottsdale South, which was blacked out, now has new arrow which leads motorists to St. Joseph via M-139 and Napier avenue. Cause of detours and route signs is construction of bridge over Hickory Creek on Niles avenue. Highway department said some of the supports of the half-century old bridge were 40 per cent gone and immediate replacement was deemed necessary. (Staff photo)

BH Dystrophy Drive Planned

Appointed By Fire Chief Heatherington

Ralph Heatherington, Benton Harbor fire chief, today announced the appointment of fireman Grover Goggains to head the department's 1968 March for Muscular Dystrophy to be held the first two weeks of November.

Goggains won the department's "Marcher with the Most" trophy in last year's dystrophy campaign and expects the 1968 drive to be the best in Benton Harbor's history.

Benton Harbor fire fighters will march door to door in 75 to 80 per cent of the city. The remaining area will be covered by volunteer marchers.

Letters are being mailed to local business and industry leaders requesting their continued support in the drive for funds for research and care for 48 local patients and nearly a quarter million victims throughout the nation whose only hope for survival is a cure or effective treatment for the disease.

PREVIOUS DRIVES
The Benton Harbor fire department has collected $43,125 in 14 previous MD drives. Volunteers wishing to help in the house to house campaign should call WA 6-2231 or WA 5-2741. "Dollars for Dystrophy," a successful feature of last year's campaign, will be continued this year. Under the slogan sign posted in bars and private clubs, donors may contribute dollars over their names which are posted on the mirror or wall.

The Benton Harbor drive is part of a four-county southwestern Michigan campaign headed by Capt. William Moore of the St. Joseph department and the nationwide drive headed by comedian Jerry Lewis.

The local drive is coordinated by the Southwest Michigan chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

Class Deals With Home Ownership

Presented By BH Community Schools

"So You Want To Be A Home Owner?" is a Benton Harbor community education class that is offered for the first time to Twin City area residents.

The class which starts Wednesday at 7 p.m. at Seely McCord school will meet for eight sessions and present speakers in real estate and finance.

Some of the points will be discussion of what can be paid for housing in relation to income, services expected of a real estate agent. What makes a house worth the asking price or not worth it? Is it cheaper to rent?

Conducting the class will be Mrs. Charles Moore who said it is the brainchild of several "living room dialog clubs" in the area which meet to discuss means of improving race relations.

BUCHANAN — The Rev. Robert W. Latham, missionary to the Republic of the Philippines, will be the guest speaker at the Church of the Nazarene, Moccasin avenue and West Fourth street, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, according to the Rev. Louis W. Cobb, pastor of the church.

This is the first furlough for Rev. and Mrs. Latham since their assignment to the Philippines in 1963. Mr. Latham has been in charge of the Mission station in Iloilo City.

WATERVLIET, KOLENKO RUN WILD AGAIN--58-7!

WATERVLIET — Tailback Jim Kolenko led the Watervliet Panthers on another scoring rampage here Friday in a 58-7 Red Arrow victory over the Bridgman Bees.

Kolenko and teammate Craig Camp each scored three touchdowns as the unbeaten Panthers ran their point total in the past two games to 123. Watervliet is southwestern Michigan's highest scoring team with a total of 246 points for the season.

Kolenko's touchdowns jumped his season total to 19 and put him over the 1,000 mark in rushing. The senior standout carried 19 times for 207 yards.

Watervliet is now just one game away from its second straight Red Arrow championship on a 6-0-1 record. The Panthers go against Decatur in their conference finale Nov. 8.

The Panthers took the opening kickoff Friday and marched in for the touchdown with Kolenko going four yards through the left side for the TD. Gary Tarantino then kicked the first of his four extra points for the night.

But winless Bridgman bounced right back to tie the score after the Watervliet kickoff. A seven-yard pass to Ken Bakeman moved the ball in close, and quarterback Jeff Crocker sneaked in from the one for the six points.

Steve Blocker grabbed the Bee kickoff and returned it 33 yards to midfield. And the Panthers' go ahead touchdown followed shortly on a 44-yard pass from quarterback John Rinks to end Dave Johnson.

Watervliet added two second period TDs to make it 25-7 at halftime. Kolenko raced 60 yards to set up a one-yard TD plunge by Craig Camp, and Dave Sexton intercepted a pass and returned it 44 yards for the other score of the second quarter.

Bridgman then dominated the third quarter with a drive of 70 yards which stalled at the Watervliet three. Watervliet got the only score of the period when Joe Frontzak blocked a punt at the Bee nine, Kolenko scored in three runs of six, two and one yards.

But it was all Watervliet in the final frame with a 26-point burst. Camp scored two on runs of seven and two yards; Rinks connected with Johnson for a 40-yard TD pass, and Kolenko raced nine yards for the other.

Watervliet, which hasn't allowed more than one touchdown in six straight games, limited Bridgman to an offensive total of 116 yards. Johnson led the defense with 13 unassisted tackles from his linebacker position. Tackle Ted Olmstead added 11 tackles.

The Panther offense rolled up 466 yards against a Bee team which has lost 14 straight and allowed at least two touchdowns in 14 consecutive outings. Camp followed Kolenko in the rushing department with 104 yards in 12 totes.

Bears Trample Portage Central

By JAKE SHUBINSKI
Staff Sports Writer

PORTAGE — St. Joseph's running attack, unable to score a touchdown in the last three games, exploded for 197 yards and five touchdowns here Friday night as the Bears won a 33-6 Big Six conference decision from the Portage Central Mustangs.

The 33 points represented the biggest scoring production by a St. Joseph team since the opening game of the 1963 season when the Bears took a 41-14 decision from Lakeshore.

The victory was achieved without the aid of three regulars. Leading ground gainers Mark Teachout and Al Litter were dropped from the squad for this game because they yards in four carries and also accounted for the last three St. Joseph pass interceptions.

St. Joseph's favorite offensive weapon was a quick pitchout. The Bears scored three times on this type of play which was helped considerably by the faking by the man going into the line without the ball.

"Our offensive line hit out real well," said Muhlenkamp. "Hamilton followed his blockers and, like the rest of our backs last night, he was an aggressive runner."

Muhlenkamp was pleased with the work of his defensive line which held Portage to 23 yards on the ground in the first half.

"Our secondary covered real well, too," declared Muhlenkamp. Both Chad Biasi and Englehardt intercepted passes in the first half with Biasi's setting up the Bears' second touchdown.

Along with losing the ball three times in the air, the Mustangs had trouble holding on to it on the ground. Defensive end Bob Holmes fell on two Portage fumbles, both of which set up touchdowns, and Ben Baker's recovery on a punt attempt in the fourth quarter gave the Bears a shot at a sixth touchdown that was ended by the clock.

The Bears scored four out of five (See BEARS, Page 16) missed school Thursday and Mark Witkowski has been ill.

Bill Hamilton, a junior halfback who had carried the ball only 10 times and gained 16 yards in his two previous games, more than made up for the loss of Teachout and Litter. Hamilton carried the ball 27 times last night, gained 122 yards and scored two of the Bears' touchdowns. He gained 74 yards in 17 carries the first half and 48 yards in 10 carries in the third quarter.

Hamilton and the rest of the St. Joseph regulars played very little in the final canto as coach Ike Muhlenkamp cleared his bench. In the process, the Bears used four quarterbacks and Portage was able to avert a whitewashing against St. Joseph subs.

Ed Zick and Mark Englehardt alternated at the other backfield spot. Zick carried six times for 20 yards and scored St. Joseph's first two touchdowns while Englehardt, along with kicking three extra points, carried four times for 22 yards and tallied a touchdown.

St. Joseph's second leading ground gainer was Larry Bronkan who ran a halfback slot in the final quarter and gained 25 allowing 107 points in their first three outings.

So four games ago, Rose decided his players liked the towel so much that he would bring it along to the games. And they haven't allowed a point since in stopping Galien 25-0, Eau Claire 25-0 and New Buffalo 40-0 before last night.

"The point was that they started to believe in this thing," said Rose. "We knew that potentially they were a better ballclub than they were showing us. And the towel along with the article in the paper kind of teed the kids off. They've been playing good ball ever since."

The four consecutive shutouts are the most by a St. Joe Catholic team since the trick was turned over the 1962 and 1963 seasons.

The sparkling defensive performance almost overshadowed another standout offense effort by Steve Ives.

The senior halfback raced for 173 yards in 17 carries, including dashes of 53 and 58 yards, while scoring two touchdowns and an extra point to run his season total to 84 tallies. Bill Neal collected the other Pony six-pointer.

St. Joe Catholic actually got a break on the opening kickoff from which Hartford never recovered. The Indians suffered what coach Ed Gustafson called a "mental lapse" and didn't field Jon Luckner's kick as it skipped toward the sidelines. St. Joe's Bill Neal gave the Ponies possession by faling on the "free" ball at the Hartford 21.

Neal then scored four plays later on a seven-yard run around right end with 9:53 still left in the opening quarter. Ives' extra point kick was blocked.

Potent Ponies Not 'Crying' Now
HARTFORD FOURTH STRAIGHT SHUTOUT VICTIM

By JOHN VANDEN HEED
Staff Sports Writer

St. Joseph Catholic's Ponies rallied around their "crying towel" to continue an unbelievable comeback with a 19-0 homecoming blanking of Hartford Friday night at Dickinson Stadium.

It was the fourth straight shutout for the comeback Ponies and guaranteed the school of a winning season for a ninth straight year, a mark unattached in southwestern Michigan.

And who would believe the little "crying towel" flapping in the stiff breeze from the belt of coach Terry Rose Friday night is responsible for it all.

Rose received the towel at the annual pre-season Exchange Club luncheon after crying about the woes of his squad. And the Ponies promptly made a prophet of their coach by allowing 107 points in their first three outings.

So four games ago, Rose decided his players liked the towel so much that he would bring it along to the games. And they haven't allowed a point since in stopping Galien 25-0, Eau Claire 25-0 and New Buffalo 40-0 before last night.

Another Hartford miscue gave the Ponies a second period touchdown and a 13-0 halftime edge.

The Indians' blocking broke down on a punt play, and linebacker Luckner blocked Don Lyons' kick at the Hartford four-yard line. Ives went up the middle on the first Pony play for the TD and then kicked the PAT.

A pass interception by Jeff Neuman started the Ponies only long scoring march of the night in the third frame from the Pony 17.

Five running plays took the ball out of the 41, from where Ives broke loose on the 50-yard scamper to the Indian one. He came right back on the next play for the touchdown. His PAT boot was again blocked.

Hartford moved to the Pony 28 in the first half for their deepest penetration, but a Bob Rice pass was then intercepted at that point by Joe Beckman.

The Indians then made their only serious scoring threat of the night in the final period by moving 61 yards in nine plays to the Pony five, including a run of 23 yards by tailback Gary Peters and a 28-yard pass from Rice to split end Bill Meachum. But on a fourth and four down at the five, Peters was thrown for a one-yard loss.

Hartford finished with an offensive total of 158 yards, a mark second to only the 107 gained against Watervliet as the lowest of the season.

Hartford lost 20-6 to the Panthers and now compares the Ponies on a par with Watervliet. "It would be a tossup," commented Gustafson on what would happen if the Ponies and Panthers could tangle again.

Tigers Fall To Catholic
Final Period Fatal
In 13-12 Defeat

By JIM DeLAND
Sports Editor

Frustration... sheer frustration.

That's become a steady diet for Benton Harbor's football team, and it was on the menu again Friday night at Filstrup Field as Muskegon Catholic Central came from behind in the fourth quarter to edge the Tigers 13-12 on two plays everyone knew were coming.

Fullback Mike Horan, running from the left halfback position, slashed four yards off right tackle for a touchdown with 1:49 left in the game and then slammed over again on the identical play for the extra point that sent the Tigers down to their fifth straight defeat.

"You could have called it, couldn't you?", Benton Harbor coach Les Butgereit said of the decisive extra point play. "We knew it was coming...I even sent (Gary) Geiger in to make sure they were ready for it, and we still didn't line up in the right position."

It was that kind of a night for the Tigers.

They fumbled away a certain touchdown on their first drive on the game, came from behind to take the lead on two stunning scoring plays of 78 and 76 yards, but then had one extra point wiped out by a penalty and failed in two tries to get a second conversion.

The Tigers' biggest failing, however, was one that has plagued them throughout the season—allowing the Crusaders to control the ball with an earthbound offense.

The Crusaders threw only one pass in the entire game, but still managed to grind out 318 yards on the ground without even the slightest threat of an aerial attack.

As a result, Muskegon Catholic was able to run off 71 plays to only 38 for Benton Harbor, including an unreal 43-13 margin in the second half.

Benton Harbor had the ball for only four offensive plays in the fourth quarter, and two of those ended in a fumble and pass interception.

It was like that from start to finish as the Tigers took the opening kickoff, drove 56 yards to the Muskegon one-yard line on the running of halfbacks Dave Machemer and Maurice Miller...and then fumbled the ball away.

"That really took it out of us...after that we were never the same," Butgereit sighed.

This soon became apparent as the Crusaders went to work on the Tiger defense with Horan running fullback plays straight up the middle.

Horan carried 10 times for 100 yards in the first quarter, with his final thrust putting the ball on the Benton Harbor one-yard line as the period ended. Halfback Mark Allen took it over from there on the first play of the second quarter, but Horan's run for the extra point was stopped short of the goal.

The Crusaders battled the clock in an attempt to get another touchdown before intermission, but saw their tactics backfire when sophomore quarterback Bruce Bourdon attempted to keep the drive going by taking to the air.

Mobbed by a swarm of Tiger tacklers, Bourdon threw short of his target. Miller picked it off at Benton Harbor 22-yard line and raced untouched down the near sidelines to tie the score at 6-6 with only 19 seconds

Sees Drop In Rate Of Inflation

MONTECAL (AP) — Paul W. McCracken, University of Michigan economist, expects the rate of inflation in the United States to drop from 4 to 6 per cent this year to 2.5 or 3 per cent by mid-1969.

"With a 6.5 per cent increase in gross national product," McCracken told the National Industrial Conference Board of Canada Thursday, "this still permits a gain in real output large enough to sustain reasonably full employment."

McCracken, a member of the Council of Economic Advisers during President Eisenhower's administration, forecast the U. S. gross national product would increase from $360 billion this year to about $915 billion in 1969.

Students Denied Extra Holiday

KALAMAZOO (AP) — President James W. Miller has turned down a proposal by Western Michigan University's Student Senate that a holiday be declared Election Day, Nov. 5. By a vote of 24-12, the senate asked for cancellation of election day classes "because the young are not getting a meaningful choice in the presidential election."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Thomas Bowdler in his "Family Shakespeare," 1818, omitted "those words and expressions... which cannot with propriety be read aloud in a family." The World Almanac notes. Bowdler also expurgated editions of the Old Testament and Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Consequently, "Bowdlerize" means to make prudish deletions from literary works.
